

The Wizard's Chest

Heroclix House Rules

Effective September 15, 2011

If all team members have the same team symbol, that is a theme team even if they do not share keywords, this is a non generic team for theme team effects.

If a team has no team symbols on any figure, and does not share keywords, that will be considered a theme team also. This is a generic word team for theme team effects.

Fing Fang Foom's finger is a heavy 3D object, with the same properties as a dumpster, so it is not destroyed when used.

The small Capt. America shield is an indestructible light 3d object, provides a plus 1 defense and can be thrown as a light object. Must have super strength to pick it up.

See tournament types for use of feats, battlefield conditions, and objects.

There are three (3) types of tournaments that may be scheduled starting in

September: (I will try to schedule at least one of each type of event each month) See schedule for dates and point totals for each tournament.

Modern Age: Per WizKids rules, the "current tournament sets", only current objects, and any issued ATAs, no feats, battlefield conditions or objects from retired sets. A modern age tournament can be in one of the following formats: Sealed (either brick or booster), floor where at least 50% of build must be from the latest full set, or constructed.

Silver Age: Any set with player cards, ie any set beginning with Avengers and any set released since then, including Street Fighter, Gears Of War, Halo, Lord of the Rings, etc. You can use feats, no battle field conditions. Any WizKids issued 3-D object can be used along with any issued object. Feats can be no more than 10% of the point build, objects with point costs are not considered in the feats total. These tournaments can be in the following formats: Constructed, floor with 50% of the build from the latest set(s)(i.e, Fast Forces, Starters or Gravity feed sets that are not Marvel or DC, ie Street Fighter, etc.). Possible sealed drafts from Gravity feeds.

Golden Age: Any Heroclix figure, except those marked demo or purple rings is playable, within the point values of the tournament. Any and all feat cards, battlefield condition cards, and any WizKids object (normal or 3-D) are usable. Feats can be no more than 10% of the point build, objects with point costs are not considered in the feats total. These tournaments are constructed and may have build restrictions per the tournament schedule, (i.e.maximum points for a figure including feats, or a required number of figures per team).

NOTE: Colossal figures are playable based on the set they are associated with so "retired" figures may only be used in Silver Age if they have a "card", all can be used in Golden Age, if they can fit within the point build.
